Finding your real-world friends is the best way to get the most out of Facebook.

Search for friends

Use the Friend Finder

Include clubs and organizations that you are involved in.

Include blog/portfolio.

This is your "sales pitch" section. Include what you are looking for and your skills.

-Remember if you are going to use this strictly for networking keep it professional. Don't upload inappropriate pictures, wall posts, etc.

-Browse through your friends' companies and see if something interests you and ask them to pass along your work to their bosses.

-Always keep updating your profile so that it comes up on the news feed and people will continue to look at it.

About Me:

I am a senior at FGCU majoring in Communications and Marketing. I am currently looking to network with professionals to help further my career and get a great job out of college. Take a look at my marketing examples on my blog and let me know what you think.

I am interested in working for a Marketing Agency helping clients market their products or brands. I have great communication skills, attention to detail, graphic design skills, and I am very creative.

I welcome the opportunity to talk with anyone about any job opportunities.
